Naples, Sept. 20.

TWO Batteries of 30 Cannon being rais'd againſt Gaeta, began to fire the 12th to make Breaches; and we hear the Walls are already damag'd very much, and that ſeveral Houſes are laid in Ruines by the Bombs, of which 2000 have been thrown into the Town: On the other hand, the Garriſon ply the Beſiegers with continual Fire, and receive Succour by Sea daily, which will retard the taking of the Place. The Populace murmur here, at the ſcarceneſs and dearneſs of Corn, ariſing from the Interruption of our Commerce, by the Privateers of Sicily. The Viceroy being ſollicitous to remove the Cauſe of this Murmuring, that he has ſent to Leghorn and Genoa to obtain ſome Britiſh and Dutch Men of War, to Cruiſe on the Sicilian Capers: Who are ſo numerous, that they have made a Deſcent upon the Coaſt of Calabria, and burnt ſome Villages; whereupon the Duke of Bruzzano is ſent thither with full Power to take all proper Methods for the Security of that Coaſt.

Rome, Sept. 24. The 19th Inſtant a Courier brought Advice to Signior J. Baptiſt Nani, Embaſſador of Venice, that the Republick had conferr'd on him the Title and Dignity of a Knight of St. Mark; and deliver'd to him certain Orders, purſuant to which he has given Notice to all his Creditors to come and receive what he ow'd them by the 25th; and is preparing to depart from hence, in Caſe he be not invited to the Chappel which the Pope is to hold the 26th, as he has not been to thoſe that have been held ſince the Exception taken at his Refuſal to give the Kiſs call'd the Salutation of Peace to the Prince of Colonna in the Chappel held at St. Maria Maggiore on the Feſtival of the Aſſumption of the Virgin. Since the Arrival of this Courier, Sig. Nani has had ſeveral Conferences with Cardinal Ottoboni (who is of Venetian Extraction,) with the Cardinals de la Tremouille and Aquaviva, and with the Spaniſh Ambaſſador. A Congregation of State is to be held to morrow, in which 'tis thought that, among other Projects, it will be propos'd to declare one of the Pope's Nephews Prince of Soglio.

From the Leiden Courant, dated Oct. 19.

Venice, Sept. 30. The Courier ſent laſt by the Republick to the Chevalier Nani, their Ambador at the Court of Rome, return'd to Day with an Account, that the 26th Inſtant in the Afternoon his Excellency left Rome, accompany'd by the Cardinals and Prelates that are Subjects of this State; and that a vaſt Crowd of People got together to ſee him go: The Cardinal de la Tremouille in an Audience he had of the Pope, beſought his Holineſs earneſtly to agree to ſome Expedient for compoſing the Difference, that gave Occaſion to the Ambaſſador's being recall'd; but his Holineſs was deaf to all Arguments to Moderation. His ſaid Excellency is expected here to Morrow.

Venice. Oct. 1. Letters from Parma adviſe, that 8000 Germans are appointed to take Quarters this Winter in that Dutchy; and that they are to compel the Clergy of the States of Parma and Piacenza, to pay the Sum they were rated at in the Agreement made laſt Winter between the Emperour's Commiſſary and the Deputies of the Duke of Parma and of the ſaid States.

From the Amſt. Cour. and Gaz. dated Oct. 18.

Vienna, Oct. 5. A Gentleman of the Bed-Chamber to King Staniſlaus, arriv'd here ſome Days ago with a Letter from that Prince, to congratulate the Emperour on the Treaty concluded with the King of Sweden, and to teſtify how high a Value he ſets on the Friendſhip of his Imperial Majeſty: This Gentleman is ſent back agen with an Anſwer in very honourable and obliging Terms. This Court appears to be the better pleas'd with this Conduct of King Staniſlaus, becauſe it had been diſcovered by intercepted Letters from the Envoy of France with the King of Sweden, that King Staniſlaus earneſtly ſollicited his Swediſh Majeſty to yield to an Accommodation with the Emperour, and not to proceed to Hoſtilities. We have a Report here, that the King of Sweden has ſent an Expreſs to the Court of Rome, to demand of the Pope the Crown, Scepter, and Jewels which Queen Chriſtina gave to the Houſe of Loretto; and to declare in Caſe of Refuſal, that his Majeſty will employ other Means to conſtrain him to that Reſtitution. 'Tis believ'd Prince Ragotski's ſending Count Berezeni lately to the Czar of Muſcovy, will be reſented by the King of Sweden, eſpecially if what is reported be diſcover'd to be true, viz. that the buſineſs of that Count was to engage the Czar to favour Prince Ragotski's Election to the Throne of Poland; becauſe the King of Sweden is unalterably determin'd to eſtabliſh King Staniſlaus on that Throne: And beſides, ſuch a Diſcovery could not but leſſen Prince Ragotski's Credit among the Hungarian Malecontents. The Hungarian Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Prieſts, and other Clergy that are here, have publiſh'd a Proteſt againſt the Interregnum declar'd by the Malecontents, It imports, that they having the largeſt Share in the Kingdom, being as Spiritual Perſons the firſt Eſtate, and having the moſt numerous the moſt unbiaſs'd and the moſt honourable Voices, deem and pronouce all that the Malecontents have done with Reſpect to the Interregnum to be null and invalid.

Turin, Oct. 1. The 29th paſt came Advice, that the Governor of the Caſtle of Suza had offer'd to Capitulate, but was anſwer'd that the Garriſon would not be receiv'd on any other Terms than as Priſoners of War. That Night the Allies took by Storm the Half-Moon before that Caſtle, and put all they found in it to the Sword. We have Advice to Day, that a large Breach is made in the Caſtle it ſelf, but not wide enough yet for an Aſſault. In the mean time, our Duke has nominated the Count de la Rocca to be Governor of Suza, and 'tis ſaid 15 Battallions are to Winter in it. The Repartition of Winter Quarters for all the Troops is making, and the Horſe will march firſt into the Places made ready to receive them.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Octob. 18.

Neufchatel, Octob. 7. The 5th Inſtant the Tribunal declar'd the Proteſts made the 1ſt againſt their Proceedings by the Duke of Villeroy and the Count de Matignon, to be injurious to their Authority, unjuſt in themſelves, contrary to Juſtice and to the general Laws; and therefore pronounc'd them to be null, and forbid their being regiſtred.

From the Amſt. and Harl. Cour. &c. Oct. 18.

Neurenburg, Octob. 11. 'Tis advis'd from Ausbourg, that an Expreſs ſent from Inſpruck by Prince Charles of Neuburg Governour of Tirol, to the Biſhop of Ausbourg, had brought an Account, That the Imperialiſts had taken Gaeta by Aſſault, that the Duke d'Eſcalona was taken among other Priſoners, that Plenty of Proviſions were found in the Place, but that the Loſs on the ſide of the Imperialiſts was great.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated Oct. 18.

Paris, Oct. 14. The Duke of Vendome is expected here next Week. When the King is return'd to Verſailles from Fontainebleau, the great Councils about Military Affairs will begin to be held. All the Talk here and at Court, is of the great Force the King intends to have ready by the next Campaign, if Peace be not made this Winter; towards the Charge of levying and maintaining which Force, 'tis likely the Clergy will furniſh the greateſt Sums. 'Tis Advis'd from Cadix, that the Enemy's Squadron of Men of War which lay at Anchor ſome Days before that City, is gone on to Lisbon. From the Camp before Lerida they write the 1st Instant, that notwithstanding the Duke of Orleans had given Order for opening the Trenches the 25th past, he had been oblig'd to put it off again, because great Rains fell that Day and the next, and made the River overflow a large extent of Ground: But the Weather having been fair since the 26th, the Trenches were to be open'd the 2d of this Month, between the Monastery of the Franciscans and the River Segra. 6 Battalions of the King of Spain's Guards were appointed to march first into those Trenches, and are to be reliev'd by the rest of the Spanish and French Troops in Turn. 19 heavy Cannon were arriv'd in the Camp; but 'twas apprehended, that the bad Weather and the great Resistance the Garrison seem'd determin'd to make, would render the Siege very difficult and bloody. The hard Rains we have had for several Days together, have done inexpressible Damage all over France: The Banks of the Loire were broken 3 Leagues above Orleans; and several Villages were born down by the Violence of the Inundation, a great quantity of Corn and Wine swept away and destroy'd, and thousands of People and Cattle drown'd. 'Tis attributed to the Floods, that the Marshal de Tesse is not march'd yet to attempt the Relief of the Cattle of Suza.

From the Leiden Courant, dated Oct. 19.

Brussels, Oct. 17. Last Night we receiv'd Advice from Paris, that the 5th of this Month the Castle of Suza surrendred to Prince Eugene on Terms of Capitulation: And that in the Town and Forts about it were found great Stores of Provisions and Forrage, and a considerable quantity of Ammunition in the Castle; the Enemy having for some Time made it a Place of Arms.

From the Harl. Cour. and Leid. Gaz. dated Oct. 18.

Hague, Oct. 17. The 15th the Duke of Marlborough and M. Geldermalsen left the Army, din'd at Mechlen with Don Francisco Bernardo de Quiros, lay that Night at Lier; and were to proceed Yesterday by the Way of Maestricht and Cologne, for the Upper Rhine. They write from Cologne the 14th, that they had prepar'd Change of Horses and Caleshes for the Duke and M. Geldermalsen; and that for their greater Security, the Garrisons of Bon and Coblentz were to be posted on the Side of the Rhine.

The Advices of the 10th of October from the Armies on the Upper Rhine, import, that the French were working hard upon a Line from Kupenheim to Rastad, intending (as was believ'd) to quarter their Troops this Winter on the Right side of the Rhine: And that the Germans were carrying on their Line from the Valley of Gersbach to the Rhine, to secure their own Winter Quarters, and prevent as much as possible the Enemy's incommoding Germany from theirs.

Hague, Octob. 18. 'The Augmentation of Forces 'propos'd by the Duke of Marlborough when he 'was here, is 30000 Men; one third part at the 'Charge of the States, the other two thirds at the 'Charge of Great Britain. By what we can gather 'from the best Hands, the Provinces of this State 'will readily consent to it: And indeed the People 'of this Country are very zealous for prosecuting 'vigorously a War so apparently necessary to the 'obtaining of a solid Peace. Last Week the Province of Holland gave in to the Council of the 'States General their Consent to the fitting out 24 'Men of War for the next Year, over and above the 'former Years Establishments for the Sea-Service. 'The Charge of making this extraordinary Addition to our Naval Force, will amount to 8 Millions '86000 and odd hundred Gulders. The Province 'of Utrecht, following the Example of that of Holland, has consented that this State be a Guarantee 'of the Treaty between the Emperour and the 'King of Sweden; and the like is expected from 'the other Provinces. The Duke of Savoy has 'sent a Present to the Duke of Marlborough of 7 'or 8 large Pieces for Hangings. They are of Leather gilt with Gold; and owe their Value to the 'Paintings done in the Middle of each Piece, by 'the fam'd Hand of Titian. They are Originals, 'and no Copy was ever taken of them. The King 'of France offer'd once, in vain, 100000 Crowns 'for them, to adorn his Pleasure-House of Trianon.
